To Whom it May Concern:

My name is Doug Johnson and I am a consumer advocate and national radio host. I have spent the past 13 years evaluating and testing companies and firms, so illegitimate and dishonest people don't get the chance to scam you. During the past 13 years, we have evaluated 700 debt relief and mortgage relief companies and law firms.

Today, there are only a few companies in the industry I endorse based on many factors, including providing written documentation proving they can accomplish what they say, and passing my private investigator's background investigation. The Homeowner Defense Network is one of those rare companies I endorse, and CEO Brett Robbins is one of those rare individuals that I recommend in this space. They both maintain a high level of integrity and trustworthiness.

The Homeowner Defense Network truly is committed to helping distressed homeowners amidst an industry plagued with unethical companies that put their financial gains and interest before those of their very own customers.

I highly recommend any consumer considering a loan modification or credit restoration to take advantage of The Homeowner Defense Network's years of industry leader experience along with their variety of tools, which truly can help you to regain financial stability and discover relief.

Sincerely,

Doug Johnson
